

Future of the Balkans: Lessons Learnt and Not Learnt

24 November 2004, Budapest

09.00 Registration

09.30 Opening words: Gen. Dr. József Holló, Director of the War History Institute

09.45-11.00 1. panel: keynote speeches

- Opening speech: Matthew Thompson, US Delegation in NATO: NATO Operations in the Balkans: Struggling with the History of the Region and of NATO
- Dr. Milan Pajevic, Director of G-17 Institute: How Can Serbia Overcome its Historical Legacy?

11.00-11.30 Coffee break

11.30-13.00 2. panel, The past the roots of the conflicts

- Professor Istvan Czigany, War History Institute, Hungary: Roots of the Militarization of the Balkan's Societies
- Colonel Istvan Magyar, Hungarian Military Intelligence Bureau: Chronology and Stages of the Disintegration Process
- Dr. Mihaly Szacsky, Technical University of Budapest
The Nature of Individual and Collective Aggression
Comments and Questions

13.00-14.30 Lunch

14.30-16.00 3. panel, The future: lessons learnt or not learnt

- Professor Jozsef Juhasz, University of Sciences Budapest Lessons Learnt and Provisional Way Ahead
- Professor Mladen Stanicic, Director of Institute for International Relations, Zagreb, Croatia: the European Integration of Croatia: Is History Help or Problem?
- Gen. Zoltan Szenes, CH0D: Hungarian Vision on the Peace Keepers' Future
Comments and Questions

Closing remarks by Ambassador István Gyarmati, Chairman of CEID